

Holistic Planned Grazing: Boost Your Farm's Profitability

1

What is Holistic Planned Grazing

Holistic Planned Grazing involves dividing large pastures into smaller paddocks and moving livestock frequently from one paddock to another. Livestock graze intensely in each area for a short time, fertilizing the soil with their manure and trampling organic matter into the ground, before being moved to allow the pasture to rest and regenerate. This prevents overgrazing and promotes healthy plant regrowth, improving productivity and farm economics, $$

Many farmers report being able to increase their stocking rates by 30-50% or more without degrading their land. The exact increase depends on factors like soil health, climate, and how degraded the land was to begin with. This is achieved through the following.

2

Economic Benefits at a Glance

Increased Forage Production

More Grazing Days: Healthy, rested pastures yield more feed, reducing supplemental feed costs.
Efficiency: Better pasture use means more profit per acre.

Reduced Inputs

Lower Fertilizer Needs: Nutrient-rich soil from HPG eliminates costly fertilisers.
Weed & Pest Control: Grazing patterns suppress pests and weeds, cutting down on herbicide and pesticide expenses.

Healthier Livestock

Weight Gain: Animals on nutrient-dense pasture gain weight faster, enhancing meat/milk quality.
Reduced Vet Bills: Healthier livestock require fewer medical treatments.

Increased Land Value

More Fertile proved soil quality and productivity increase property worth.
Legacy Investment: A sustainable, profitable asset generations.

Risk Mitigation & Resilience

Drought Resistance: Increased water retention in soil protects against droughts.
Climate Adaptability: Healthier ecosystems can better handle extremes, reducing financial risk.

3

Invest in Holistic Planned Grazing

Maximize your land's potential, reduce expenses, and create a more profitable, resilient farm.

Read More: The Savory Institute - <https://savory.global/holistic-management/>

Find a Course: Holistic Management Educators Australia - hmeducators.com.au